Additional Application Materials:

Please attach the following:

- A current resume detailing relevant work experience (include TA or RA experience), research experience, internships, scholarships, and other academic accomplishments and awards.
- Statement of Intent

The purpose of the statement of intent is to provide information which is not included in your application or academic records and which may be useful to the admissions committee. Write a carefully constructed statement that reflects your academic preparation and goals and how to graduate school fits into those goals. Statements are generally 1-2 pages. This statement gives the admissions committee an opportunity to learn the following:

1. your preparation and background for the program to which you are applying and the special emphasis you hope to pursue,
2. your academic or professional goals (both short (3-5 years) and long term ) and reasons for your choice of career,
3. your particular academic or professional reasons for applying to Brigham Young University and the scholarly or professional contributions you expect to make to your program,
4. (optional) any special circumstances you wish the department to consider, such as whether or not you plan to attend full-time, circumstances that may have affected undergraduate academic performance, test scores, etc.
5. briefly describe a time when a goal was not accomplished, an aspiration was not achieved, or your leadership efforts have fallen short. What steps did you take to recover from this defeat? What resources did you use? How and why are you different today?
6. (optional) how have you strengthened your candidacy if you previously applied to this program and were denied admission (e.g. changes in your professional development, improved academic qualifications, etc.)
